

Index

A

Aaron (consultant/trainer), 39–46, 47–48, 49–52
ability, 33–34
acceptance, 35 actors, 106 adjustment, 114
agreement vs. empathy, 75 alcohol, quitting, 95–96
ambivalence, 72–75, 137–138
anchoring new approaches in the culture, 173–175 anger, 109 attacks, personal, 128 attitudes
 taking responsibility for, 86–87
 toward resistance and resistors, 62–64

B

Beer, Michael, 187n.2 (ch.10)
Bennis, Warren, 187n.2 (ch.10)
Berra, Yogi, 173 blessings in disguise, 78–79, 139, 152 blind compliance, 130–131
Block, Peter, xii, 127, 132, 183n.3 (ch.2)
Bobbie (librarian), 98–99
Bonanno, Joe, 87
Bradley, Ernestine, 78–79
breast cancer, as blessing in disguise, 78–79
Bridges, William, 21, 76, 112, 182n.1 (ch.1), 183n.3 (ch.2), 184n.2 (ch.4), 185n.1 (ch.7), 186n.2 (ch.7)
Bundy, Ted, 74 burden-of-responsibility approach, 134
buy-in, employee, 150

C

cancer, as blessing in disguise, 78–79

candid, encouraging, social support, 142, 148, 152 career change examples
 Aaron (consultant/trainer), 39–46, 47–48, 49–52
 Jerald Young, 17–18, 20–21
change accepting ambivalence toward, 72–73, 137–138, 152 adjusting to, 114 choosing a response, 122–124 failure of projects, 2–3 failure rates of, 178–180n.1 (intro.) finding stability in, 75–77, 137, 152
 Kotter's eight-stage process of leading, 156, 157 requirements for successful change, 15 stages, 75–76, 137, 154–156
 as three-step process, 54–56 understanding and clarifying, 71–72, 137–138, 152 weighing Pro's and Con's, 122, 148, 149, 153
change buddy, 89, 106–107, 142–143, 152
"change by memo," 42 change leaders role expectations, 65–67
 shift in perspective, 126 change leadership, 187n.2 (ch. 10) change management, 181n.1 (intro.)
change vision. See vision choices, taking responsibility for, 88–91 clarity, 36
Clarke, Liz, 183n.3 (ch.2), 184n.2 (ch.4) coalition, creating, 159–162 combative wordfare, 130
commanders vs. facilitators, 65–67

- commitment
 - vs. clarity, 35–36
 - vs. compliance, 65
 - to realize potential for good, 88
 - to support network, 88–90
 - to withhold judgment, 90–91
 - communication
 - fear of, 165
 - as solution to ignorance, 117–118
 - of vision, 164–166
 - competence building, 118–119
 - compliance
 - blind, 130–131
 - vs. commitment, 65
 - conflict, 118
 - Conner, Daryl R., 183n.3 (ch.2), 184n.2 (ch.4)
 - consultants, distrust of, 32–33
 - contingency measures, 97–99
 - control, 119
 - conversation
 - main, 135–149, 152–153
 - “name the resistance,” 132–134
 - “what if,” 134–135
 - conversation starters
 - ambivalence, 138, 152
 - change buddy, 143, 152
 - clarifying change, 138, 152
 - defusing fear of future, 144, 153
 - finding stability in change, 138, 152
 - gratitude, 141, 152
 - hope, 140, 152
 - logical barriers, 148, 153
 - past successes, 139, 152
 - Pro’s and Con’s, 149, 153
 - recovery time, 147, 153
 - releasing attachment to our losses, 145, 153
 - responding with integrity, 149, 153
 - responsibility for reaction to change, 142, 152
 - routine losses, 145, 153
 - social support, 143, 152
 - stability of direction, 139–141, 152
 - Turning Point losses, 145, 153
 - villains, 146
 - courage, 80–83
 - credibility, loss of, 160
 - critical messages from change leader, 137
 - ambivalence, 137–138
 - change buddy, 143
 - defusing fear of future, 144
 - logical barriers, 147
 - past successes, 139
 - recovery time, 147
 - releasing attachment to our losses, 145
 - responding with integrity, 149
 - responsibility for reaction to change, 141–142
 - stability of direction, 140
 - villains, 146
 - criticism
 - as distraction, 128
 - fear of, 163
 - cubicle example, 133–134
- D
- death and dying, 180n.10 (intro.)
 - decision making, 119
 - defiance, 130–131
 - deflection, as passive wordfare, 130
 - denial, as a stage of grieving 107–108
 - Dent, Eric, 183n.3 (ch.2)
 - dieting, 155–156
 - differences, managing, 118
 - directive, 35
 - disagreement, 118
 - Disaster Fantasy, 96, 97–99, 134–135, 143, 144
 - disenchantment, 21
 - disengagement, 21
 - disidentification, 21
 - disorientation, 22

INDEX

- dissolving vs. solving, 36–37
- distractions, 128–129
- divorce, 180n.10 (intro.)
 - Jerald Young, 75, 77, 93–95
 - support groups, 90
- downsizing
 - reactions to, 22–23, 141
 - as Turning Point loss, 103–104
- Duck, Jeannie Daniel, 187n.2 (ch.10)
- E
- EBR. See Emotion-Based Resistance (EBR)
- education
 - to improve competence, 118–119
 - as solution to ignorance, 117–118
- Edward (physician), 79–80
- e-learning, 3
- emotional progression, 75–77
- Emotion-Based Resistance (EBR)
 - defined, 12, 13
 - described, 17–23
 - distortion of reality, 45–54
 - exaggeration of logical issue, 45–47
 - vs. Logic-Based Resistance, 29–37
 - masks emotion-based problems, 47–48
 - and problem-solving process, 48–54
- emotions. See feelings
- empathy, 74–75
- empowerment, 166–169
- experience, internal, 34–35
- F
- facilitators vs. commanders, 65–67
- fads, and teenagers, 58
- failure, fear of, 162
- faith, 83
- fear
 - as cause of resistance, 5, 16–19, 95–96, 143–144, 153
 - dissolving attachments to, 96–99, 144–145, 153
 - levels, 94–95
 - list of, 19
 - fear of communication, 165
 - fear of criticism, 163
 - fear of failure, 162
 - fear of future, 18–19
 - defusing, 143–144
 - dissolving, 96–99
 - identifying, 95–96
 - feelings
 - clarifying, 71–77
 - daily log, 110–111
 - sharing, 119–120
 - show of, 128
 - football injury example, 84
 - force field diagrams
 - Aaron (consultant/trainer), 40, 43, 50, 51, 52, 55
 - adding Emotion-Based Resistance, 44–45
 - adding Logic-Based Resistance, 43–44
 - adding resistance, 42–45
 - change without resistance, 40–42
 - forensic psychology, 74
 - forgiveness, 113–114, 146
 - Frank, Anne, 87
 - Frankl, Victor, 73, 86, 87, 141
 - frustration, 34
 - future. See fear of future
- G
- gains, consolidating, 171–173
- Goldstein, Jeffery, 184 n.3 (ch.4)
- going out to eat example, 52–54
- good-faith responses, 132, 133
- gratitude, 83–84, 140, 152
- grieving
 - divorce, 77
 - losses, 76, 144
 - real losses, 105–106
 - routine losses, 107–112
 - stages, 107–112
 - Turning Point losses, 112

H

- Hagmeyer, William, 74
 Hart, Melissa coping with changes, 81–82 diet, 89
 going out to eat, 52–54 show closings, 106
 telephone answering machine, 48 healing process management, 110–111
 hope, 80–83
 hospice services, 90
 hospice worker resignation example, 119–120
 Hubbard, Edward, 183n.3 (ch.2), 184n.2
 (ch.4)
 Hultman, Kenneth E., 182n.2 (ch.2), 183n.3 (ch.2)

I

- iceberg of change, 13, 14
 ignorance pretend, 129
 real, 117–118
 implementing stage, 154–156
 inability vs. insubordination, 59–60 incentives, 120
 indignation, as a stage of grieving, 109 individualism, 161
 insubordination, 59–60, 121 integration, as a stage of grieving, 110 integrity, 122–124, 148–149, 153 intellectualizing, 130 internal experience, 34–35 internal resources, 78–84 internal voices, 2, 13–14, 29
 introspection, 145 involvement, 119

J

- Jeff (corporate trainer), 119
 Jeffers, Susan, 18–19, 87, 94–95, 98
 Jellison, Jerald, 127, 183n.3 (ch.2), 184n.4
 (ch.4), 186n.9 (ch.8)

- Jennifer (disgruntled employee)
 ability, 33–34
 desire to be right, 1 Emotion-Based Resistance, 28–29, 31
 inability vs. insubordination, 59–60
 Jick, Todd D., 187n.2 (ch.10)
 Julie (picture researcher), 107–108

K

- Kanter, Rosabeth Moss, 187n.2 (ch.10)
 Ken (potential business partner),
 101–103, 106–107, 110–111
 Kotter, John P., 156–157, 182n.1 (ch.1), 182n.2 (ch.2), 186n.1 (ch.8)
 Kotter's change-leadership stages anchoring new approach in the culture, sources of resistance, 173–175 communicating the vision, sources of resistance, 164–166
 consolidating gains, sources of resistance, 171–173
 creating a guiding coalition, sources of
 resistance, 159–162
 described, 156, 157
 developing a vision and strategy,
 sources of resistance, 162–163
 empowering broad-based action,
 sources of resistance, 166–169
 generating short-term wins, sources of resistance, 169–171
 sense of urgency, sources of resistance, 157–159

L

- Lawrence, Paul R., 186n.5 (ch.8)
 LBR. See Logic-Based Resistance (LBR) learning, traditional beliefs about, 165 Lewin, Kurt, 184n.1 (ch.3), 187n.1 (ch.10) library relocation example, 19–20 library software example, 98–99
 logical barriers
 causes, 115–117, 121
 identifying and resolving, 147–148, 153

personal vs. technical and implementation, 116 removing, 115–121, 147–148, 153 solutions to, 117–121 logical progression, 75–77
 Logic-Based Resistance (LBR)
 defined, 12, 13
 described, 23–25
 vs. Emotion-Based Resistance, 29–37
 identifying and resolving, 115–121
 log of feelings, 110–111
 logotherapy, 86
 losses. See also routine losses; Turning Point losses
 as cause of resistance, 5, 100–104, 144–145, 153
 of current good stuff, 19 releasing attachment to, 105–114, 144–145, 153 real vs. imagined, 102–103
 tangible vs. intangible, 100–102
 Lynn (lawyer), 46–47

M

main conversation, 135–150, 152–153
 manipulation, 121
 Markham, Donna J., 183n.3 (ch.2), 184n.2 (ch.4)
 Maselko, James, 118
 Maurer, Rick, 127, 182n.3 (ch.2), 184n.2 (ch.4) memo, change by, 42
 messages from change leader. See critical messages from change leader mistakes, 124
 money, as red herring, 129 motivation, 32–33

N

“naming the resistance,” 132–134
 Navajo miners, 62, 63
 “neutral zone,” 76
 “No!”, three faces of, 16

O

office layout example, 133–134
 one-dimensional companies attitude toward resistance and resistors, 62
 described, 57–58
 inferiority to two-dimensional companies, 67–68
 vs. two-dimensional companies, 58–67 opposition to change vs. resistance to change, 7–8 organizations, resistance-friendly, 57–68 others, helpfulness of, 35
 O’Toole, James, 183n.3 (ch.2)

P

parenthood, 72, 88
 participation, 119
 passive wordfare, 130
 past successes, 138–139
 performance problems, source of, 31–34 personal attack, 128 personal effects at work, 59 personal examples, rationale for using, 4–7 personal power, 122–124 perspective, 85–86, 92 philosophy, 83
 picky details, focusing on, 129 Pollyanna Fantasy, 134–135 power, personal, 122–124
 preventive measures, 97–99 principles, personal, 79–80, 139–141, 149, 152–153 Pro’s and Con’s of change, 122, 149, 153
 pseudo-agreements, 131 psychological safety, 72–75

R

reality checking, 105–107, 112 recovery, 180n.10 (intro.)
 recovery programs, 12-step, 89
 recovery time, 114, 146–147, 153

- red herrings, 129
- refreezing stage, 154–156
- religion, 83
- relocation as change, 104–105
- reluctance, 131
- renewal, 114
- resistance-friendly organizations, 57–68
- resistance responses
- buying time, 129
 - distractions, 128–129
 - pseudo-agreements, 131
 - wearing down, 129–131
- resistance to change
- conversation starters, 132–135
 - defined, 12
 - described, 12–16
 - dissolving, 70
 - and failure, 2–3
 - as iceberg, 13, 14
 - internal voices of, 2, 13–14, 29
 - as logical problem to solve, 184n.2 (ch.4)
 - meaning of, 59–60
 - “naming the resistance,” 132–134
 - nature of, 30–31
 - vs. opposition to change, 7–8
 - as performance management problem, 184n.4 (ch.4)
 - recent research trends, 182–184n.3 (ch.2)
 - result of eliminating, 35–36
 - vs. real problems, 131–132
 - sound of, 127–131
 - traditional research trends, 182n.2 (ch.2)
 - types, 12
- resources, internal, 78–84
- respect, lack of, 120–121
- responsibility. See also taking responsibility
- for reaction to change, 141–142
 - for reducing resistance, 64–65
- rewards, 120
- role expectations for change leader, 65–67
- routine losses. See also losses
- identifying, 100–103, 145, 153
 - releasing, 105–112, 145, 153
- S
- sabotage, 131
- sailing metaphor, 8–9
- self-blame, as a stage of grieving, 108–109
- self-defining changes, 20–22
- self-victimization, as a stage of grieving, 109
- Schlesinger, Leonard A., 182n.2 (ch.2), 186n.1 (ch.8)
- Senge, Peter M., 187n.2 (ch.10)
- short-term wins, 169–171
- silence, as passive wordfare, 130
- Simon, Sidney, 186n.3 (ch.7)
- skill building, 118–119
- Smith, Douglas K., 183n.3 (ch.2)
- smoking, quitting, 44, 65
- software example, 98–99
- solution strategies, 36–37
- solving vs. dissolving, 36–37
- stability
- in change process, 75–77, 137
 - of direction, 139–141
- strategy development, 162–164
- stuck, getting, 111–112
- successes, past, 138–139
- supervisor, over previous peer group, 66–67
- support network, 88–90
- survival, as stage of grieving, 109
- swimming example, 14, 30–31
- T
- taking responsibility. See also responsibility for attitudes, 86–87, 141–142, 152 for choices, 88–91

INDEX

for social support, 88–89, 142–143, 152 for thoughts, 85–86, 141–142, 152 for your part of the situation, 84–91 teenagers, and fads, 58
telephone answering machine example, 48 thoughts
 clarifying, 71–77
 taking responsibility for, 85–86 threats for insubordination, 121 perceived, 63
time buying, 129
 as red herring, 129
Tom (consultant), 103–104
tradition, 130
trust, 82–83
trust-building, 32–33 truths, empowering, 135–136
Turning Point change, 20–23
Turning Point losses. See also losses
 identifying, 103–104, 145
 and introspection, 145
 releasing, 112, 145
12-step recovery programs, 89
two-dimensional companies attitude toward resistance and resistors, 62–64
 described, 58
 vs. one-dimensional companies, 58–67 superiority over one-dimensional companies, 67–68
two-good-faith rule, 132, 133

U

unfreezing stage, 154–156
urgency, establishing sense of, 157–159

V

values-based leadership, 120–121

verbal diarrhea, 130
villains
 forgiving, 113–114, 146, 153 honoring and forgiving, 146
 identifying, 104–105, 146, 153
vision communicating, 164–166
 developing, 162–164
 implementation barriers, 166–167 voice mail implementation, 116–117 voices, internal, 2, 13–14, 29

W

Wayne (alcoholic), 95–96
wearing down, 129–131
“what if” conversation, 134–135
Williamson, Marianne, 99
Worden, J. William, 186 n.4 (ch.7) wins, short-term, 169–171
wordfare, 130
worst case scenario, 96